We offer over 30 sector and service specialties, from property and construction, healthcare, professional services and many more.

Ready for what's next

We equip our team with the vital skills to thrive in tomorrow's world, so we can guide you to success, no matter what this looks like.

Business Consulting

Irrespective of the stage a business is at, from initial start-up through to winding up and succession, Stewart has the expertise to provide valuable and reliable support. When establishing a new business, he ensures the most flexible and tax effective structures are in place. At an operational level, Stewart assists his clients to increase efficiencies through timely financial reporting, budgeting, cash flow analysis and monthly management reporting, including key performance indicators. At the end of a business's life cycle, he can assist clients to develop a detailed succession plan to ensure an appropriate exit strategy is in place.

International Solutions

A key member of our International Solutions team, Stewart works with clients to assist them in meeting their obligations both in Australia and abroad. International business dealings are becoming increasingly more prevalent as businesses look to broaden their market on a global scale; the tax treatment of these transactions and investments will vary from country to country.

In recent times, the Australian Taxation Office has highly scrutinised international business dealings making it extremely important to receive sound taxation advice.

Government Grants

With a detailed understanding of the various federal, state, local and special purpose grants currently available, Stewart can advise clients on requirements for eligibility and assist with the application process.
